Silvaris Expands Trading Operations on the West Coast

New trading group in Eugene, OR joins Silvaris Corporation

Bellevue, Washington - January 6, 2010 - Silvaris Corporation dba LowGradeLumber announced today that it has expanded its North American trading operations by adding an office in Eugene, OR.

Bob Brass, Dave Brewer, Bob Spagnolo, Pat Meyers, Don Wood, Dick Barnes, Rob Parks, , and Dustin Smith, all formerly with Maywood-Anderson Forest Products, have formed a new Silvaris/LowGradeLumber office in Eugene, OR. This addition brings to Silvaris a host of new sales and supply capacity in the Western U.S.

The new Eugene office is the 16th North American office for Silvaris, including two offices in Canada and three in Mexico. This group has extensive experience in West Coast lumber and panels, with traders each averaging over 20 years experience. The additional business will be a great complement to the already-established trading group, and will bring Silvaris unique sourcing power in plywood and lumber.

"We have been looking for the right group to expand our presence in the Western United States," said Kurt Bray, President and CEO of Silvaris. "This veteran group of traders will be a key part of our expansion in 2010 and will bring new relationships to support our existing trading operations."

Silvaris Corporation is a technology-powered trading company specializing in buying and selling wholesale quantities of OSB, plywood, softwood and hardwood lumber, cut stock, and building material surplus and seconds. We trade as Silvaris and as LowGradeLumber, and sell wood panels online at OSBMarket.com. Silvaris Corporation is a privately held corporation headquartered in Bellevue, Washington. Further information is available at www.silvaris.com.
