Silvaris Adds 2 New Regions to OSBMarket™

Downfall OSB buyers in West Texas and Southern California can now buy online

Bellevue, Washington – January 21, 2008 – Silvaris Corporation today announced the release of 2 new regions for OSBMarket (www.osbmarket.com), a website dedicated to sales of off-grade oriented strand board (OSB) products.

Silvaris released OSBMarket last fall to a limited number of regions, and the early usage of the site turned out to be higher than expected. Concurrently, their relationships with key suppliers across the U.S. expanded over the past few months, leading them to opening regions in Southern California (So Cal) and West Texas.

Downfall OSB buyers can visit the website anytime and look at the various delivery regions to see availability and current pricing. Products on OSBMarket are priced as TrueMarket™, meaning that the price includes delivery to any location in that region. Buyers with a Silvaris (or LowGradeLumber) account can buy a load or more anytime, as easily as they can buy a book or office supplies online.

“We are really glad to be able to service more of our customers with OSBMarket,” said Kurt Bray, CEO of Silvaris. “We have been pleasantly surprised by the easy adoption of this new way of buying downfall OSB, and look forward to rolling out even more regions soon.”
