Silvaris Launches OSBMarket™ for Downfall OSB

Web site offering off-grade and discount wood panels online today

Bellevue, Washington – September 4, 2007 – Silvaris Corporation today announced the release of OSBMarket, a web site dedicated to sales of off-grade oriented strand board (OSB) products. The site is live today at www.osbmarket.com.

In addition to a large selection of products available 24x7, buyers at OSBMarket will benefit from several innovations to the way industrial wood products are sold:

- TrueMarket™ prices. Products on OSBMarket are priced delivered to any destination within a specific region. Customers will not have to wait for delivery quotes to make purchases.

- TrueMarket indexes. To help customers make informed purchasing decisions in the dynamic OSB market, OSBMarket shows constantly-updated, volume-adjusted market price indexes and historical graphs of price movements.

- Simplified grading. To simplify buying, all downfall products at OSBMarket are categorized as either LowGrade1™ (first downfall) and LowGrade2™ (second downfall). These grade standards help eliminate confusion about the differing grades mills use for their downfall products.

“I am excited our customers can now buy OSB online,” said Kurt Bray, CEO of Silvaris. “No other industrial wood products company provides the simple pricing, product selection, and round-the-clock service we have at OSBMarket. This is a huge win for our customers, and a great new channel for our OSB suppliers.”
